passenger jet. More than a decade ago, the Boeing 757 became the first large commercial jet with a sleeker design. The plane flew its first leg ever tonight, winning a $55 million contract from United. It is the first time in more than 10 years the plane has flown. The 757s are made in Assembly Plant 2 in North Charleston, South Carolina. Boeing expects the planes, likely to be at the forefront of air travel in another decade, will be in service for decades to come, generating powerful economic benefits for the state. NORTH NEWTON,. ^ The July issue
